DEATH OF MRS. JAMES, MAESY-
CWM-STREET, BARRY DOCKS.

It is with regret we announce the death of Mrs Margaret James, wife of Mr Evan James, of 79, Maesyowm-street, Barry Docks, and formerly of Tregibby Farm, Cardigan, which took place on Saturday last, at the age of 61 years. Mrs James had been in indifferent health for a couple of years, but it was not until about two months ago that her condition became serious. She was a member of Jerusalem Welsh Calvinistic Methodist Chapel, and was held in much respect by the members of the church, and her many friends and neighbours, who sympathise deeply with Mrs James and family in their bereavement. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Merthyr Dyfan Cemetery, and was largely attended. The officiating ministers were the Rev Howell Davies, B.Sc., pastor of Jerusalem, Barry Docks; Rev Jenkyn Jones, Penual, Barry; and the Rev Walter Daniel, Cardiff.

BARRY DOCK NEWS,

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1906.

MARRIAGE OF MR. DAVID
JAMES, BARRY DOCKS.

On Sunday morning last a pretty wedding took place by special license at Jerusalem Welsh Calvinistic Methodist Chapel, Tynwydd-road, Barry Docks, the contracting parties being Mr David James, of the composing staff of the "Barry Dock News," second son of Mr Evan James, 79, Maesyowm-street, Barry Docks, formerly of Tregibby Farm, Cardigan, and Miss Margaret Jane Thomas, eldest daughter of Mr James Thomas, dock gateman, Dock View-road, Barry Docks, late of Dinas Cross, Pembrokeshire. The bride, who was charmingly attired, was given away by her father, the bridesmaids being Miss Louisa Thomas (sister) and Miss Margaret C. Jones, and the best man was Mr Jos. James. The marriage ceremony, the first to be celebrated at Jerusalem Church, was performed by the Rev Howell Davies, B.Sc., pastor. The breakfast was partaken of at the residence of the bride's parents. The newly married couple were the recipients of a large number of wedding presents, and we wish them health, wealth, and happiness.

WELL-KNOWN CARDIGAN
FARMERDEATH OF MR. EVAN JAMES,
BARRY DOCKS.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Evan James, which took place, after a protracted illness, at 1, Kendrick-road, Barry, on Friday last. Deceased, who was in his 76th year, came to Barry twenty-three years ago from Tregibby Farm, Cardigan, where he had been for many years one of the principal farmers, and where he enjoyed the respect of all with whom he came in contact. For a number of years at Barry, Mr. James carried on business, but his health giving way, he was obliged to retire. Deceased leaves one surviving daughter and three sons. Much sympathy is felt with the family in their bereavement.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Prior to the cortege leaving the house for Merthyr Dyfan Cemetery, where the interment took place, the Rev. Walter David, Cardiff, conducted a short service. At the cemetery chapel the Rev. J. Mydyr Evans officiated, and the Rev. Howell Davies, B.Sc., at the grave. The mourners were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, Blackpool (daughter and son-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. David James (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Joshua James and Master Joshua James (son, daughter-in-law and grandson), Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan James, Mountain Ash (son and daughter-in-law), Mrs. A. Jenkins (sister), Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodward (nephew and niece), Mrs. Llewellyn Edwards (Mountain Ash (niece)), Miss A. Thomas (niece), Mrs. M. A. Owen, Barry (niece), Mrs. A. Evans (niece), and Captain Griffith George, Cardiff. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Messrs. James Jones and Co., undertakers, Holton-road.

Impressive Funeral at Merthyr
Dyfan.

We regret to record the death, which occurred on Sunday last, after a long illness, of Elwyn Price James, aged 16 years, eldest son of Mr. David James, a respected member of the composing staff of the "Barry Dock News," and Mrs. James, of 10, Hannah-street, Barry Dock.

The funeral took place on Wednesday last, at Merthyr Dyfan Cemetery, when a large number of friends attended. The Rev. P. J. Beddoe Jones, B.A., pastor of the Jerusalem Welsh C.M. Church, Barry Docks, conducted the service at the house and at the cemetery.

The chief mourners were Mr. David James (father), Bryn James (brother), Joshua James, Mr. Jonathan James and T. H. Andrews (uncles), Mr. L. Edwards; there were also present Mr. John Jenkins, Messrs. F. H. Pullin, W. Nemes, J. Molineux, and E. W. David (representing the "Barry Dock News"); Messrs. Pentelow, C. Jones, W. Lloyd, and Idris Evans (representing employees Barry Co-operative Society), Mr. D. Charles Jones (representing Hannah Street School and Staff), Messrs. W. E. Griffiths, S. W. Morgan (Mountain Ash), Jenkin Morgan, Ivor Thomas (Cardiff), David James, William James, O. Robert Jones, A. Hunt, Rees Morgan, W. Prithard, and numerous other friends.

The bearers were Messrs Horace Price, J. Llewellyn Prothero, J. James, and C. Hutton.

Beautiful floral tributes were sent by the following:—Mr. and Mrs. David James (father and mother); Mrs. E. Thomas (grandmother); Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Andrews (uncle and aunt); Mr. and Mrs. Jos. James (uncle and aunt); Mr. and Mrs. J. Jenkin James, Mountain Ash (uncle and aunt); Mrs. A. Evans (cousin); Mr. and Mrs. C. Garland, Pontypridd (uncle and aunt); Mr. and Mrs. F. Archer; Mr. and Mrs. W. Pritchard; Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Court-road; Mr. and Mrs. Dobbs; Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Hunt; teacher and scholars of his class, Jerusalem Sunday School; Jerusalem Church Band of Hope; Officers "Glamorgan Garden of Wales" Lodge; Staff of Jenner Park Boys' School; Staffs of the "Barry Dock News"; Fellow Employees, Barry Co-operative Society; Hannah Street Neighbours and Friends; bunches of flowers from Leonard Andrews (cousin), Phyllis Archer, Edith Palfrey, and Gordon Moir.

Mr. and Mrs. James wish to thank all relatives and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy and floral tributes.

WEDDINGS.

HILL-JAMES.

A pretty wedding took place on Tuesday at Jerusalem C.M. Welsh Church, Barry Dock, between Mr. Christopher Hill, second son of Mr. J. H. Hill, and the late Mrs. Hill, 21, Everard-street, Barry Dock, and Miss Dilys Margaret James, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David James, 10, Hannah-street, Barry Docks, the Rev. P. J. Beddoe Jones, B.A., of Llandoverly, officiating.

The bride who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in an ankle length gown of beige georgette with coatee and picture hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and yellow carnations, white heather and maiden-hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Myra James, sister of the bride, wore a red crepe-de-chine ankle length dress with black picture hat and shoes to match, and carried a bouquet of flame and yellow tulips, white heather, and maiden-hair fern.

The bride's father is the Overseer at the Barry and District News, while the bride herself, was on the staff of the Barry branch of Messrs. Masters and Co.

Mr. Dick Hill, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Mr. Joe Hill groomsmen.

The flowers in the church were given and tastefully arranged by Miss Lal Davies while Miss Mary Evans, cousin of the bride, presided at the organ.

The reception was held at the Pickwick Cafe, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hill left for London where the honeymoon is being spent. The bride's going away attire was a brown crepe de chine dress, tailored coat, with hat and shoes to match.

MR. CHRISTOPHER HILL

The tragically sudden death at Llandough General Hospital on Monday last of Mr. Christopher Hill, the managing principal of Hills' Motors (J. H. Hill and Sons) came as a rude shock to his many business and personal friends. A Barry boy, he early joined his father (the late Mr. J. H. Hill) in carrying on a general business of coal merchant and brake proprietor and eventually became the pioneers of the road service between Barry Docks and Llantwit Major. With the introduction of motor buses Mr. Hill took every opportunity of acquiring full and practical knowledge of the motor industry and by dint of hard work fully qualified himself for a business career. When he took over the management (upon the death of his father) of the business, nearly three years ago he proved an astute and keen business man and by his capable management the business had more than doubled.

By his passing, at the early age of 31 years, Barry has lost a worthy citizen. Of quiet and reserved disposition, he had endeared himself to a large circle of friends, among whom he was very popular.

He is survived by a widow and one child. Mrs. Hill is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David James, Hannah-street.

WEDDING BELLS

BROWN-JAMES IN LONDON.

An extremely interesting wedding was celebrated at the Welsh Presbyterian Church, Clapham Junction, London, on Tuesday of last week, when Miss Frances Myra James, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dd. James, of Hann Street, Barry, was married to Mr. Archibald Campbell Brown, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown, Clarkston, Glasgow. The bride's father, Mr. David James, of the "Barry and District News," is a native of Cardigan.

The bride was charmingly dressed in a model gown of cyclamen and blue pattern crepe under a navy blue edge-to-edge coat, with a picture hat and wearing a spray of cyclamen scented carnations. Her youngest sister, Betty, attended her as bridesmaid, wearing a brown tailored suit with a spray of apricot roses, while Mr Hugh M'Gregor acted as best man.

A happy note was struck by the Rev. W. J. Jones, who conducted the full service and who paid generous tributes to the young couple. The glorious June sun brought perfection to the ceremony. At the reception held in the Ardington Rooms a large sheet of congratulatory messages from friends in South Wales Scotland and London was read.

Afterwards the happy couple for a honeymoon in Scotland, prior to taking up residence in the Malay States to which the bridegroom has been posted on Air Ministry duties.

Among the guests were well-known figures in Fleet Street, including Mr. Hugh Cudlipp, editor of the "Sunday Pictorial," Mr. Hugh M'Gregor, director of the Central Press, and Mr. W. L. Anckorn, F.S.A. (Scot.) Mr. Brown (senior) is likewise a widely known figure in Scottish journalism.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. James, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. D. Hill (Barry), Mrs. Andrews (Barry), Miss Lucy James, Miss Rosalie James, Miss Betty James, Mrs. J. E. Jones (London), Mrs. Hugh Cudlipp, Mr. and Mrs. R. Canning, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Collyer, Mr. K. McCullum (Glasgow), Mr. J. James (Watford), Mrs. and Miss Gartell (London), Miss Pamela Fox, Miss Katie Jones, Mr. F. S. Snelling, Mr. E. S. Dobson and Mr. J. D. Baillie.

For going away the bride wore a grey tailored suit with navy accessories.

DEATHS OF THE WEEK

THE LATE MR. DAVID JAMES

A COLLEAGUE'S TRIBUTE

The tragic death of Mr. David James came as a great shock to a large circle of friends and acquaintances by whom he was held in very high esteem in the town and district of Barry. The writer had the privilege of Mr. James' friendship for over 40 years and during that lengthy period was often in close touch with him and can testify from actual experience, to the sterling character and undoubted integrity of the one whose sudden passing so many mourn.

Whether in the Trades' Union movement, in the Friendly Society sphere, or in the higher activities of the Christian Church, there was always that quiet devotion to duty and loyalty to honour and principle that led men to trust Mr. James implicitly; confident ever that the trust would never be abused. The willingness to help others out of various difficulties is ever a fine trait in human character, and Mr. James was never happier than when lending a helping hand to someone in trouble, and it is still true that in assisting others whose path is never smooth and whose cross seems to be always heavy, man is seen at his best. The men that love their weaker brethren are still the salt of the earth. Year after year Mr. David James served his fellows; year after year he did his best for his comrades; and year after year he filled offices in his Church and Sunday School with a zeal that never flagged, and with a devotion that spoke volumes for his loyalty and unselfishness. In the midst of his labours the call came and so he passed over the line, leaving behind memories that will be cherished by friends and comrades for many years.

To the inner home circle and especially to the one who from henceforth will be the head of that circle, are extended the heart-felt sympathies of a host of friends and they can still be cheered and inspired by the thought that they have only lost their loved one for awhile.

VERITAS.

THE LATE MR. DAVID JAMES

We regret to announce the sudden death early on Friday morning as the result of a road accident as reported elsewhere in this issue of Mr. David James, of Court Road, Cadroxton, Barry, who was a member of the works staff of the "Barry and District News" for about 40 years and latterly held the post of Works manager. He was on the way to this office when the accident occurred.

Mr. James was connected with the printing industry and its operatives administration in South Wales for 45 years. He was born on the Tregibby Farm, Cardigan and came to Barry in the early days of its development, and was an intimate friend of many Fleet Street journalists who graduated from Barry.

He was apprenticed to the Cardigan Tiveyside before coming to Barry and was also for a time employed by the "Merthyr Express."

He was Secretary of the Barry section of the Cardiff Branch of the Typographical Association from 1911 and three years ago was presented with the Association's gold medallion in recognition of his 25 years as secretary. He had also served for several years on the Trade Committee of the Branch.

Mr. James was one of the oldest members and a deacon of Jerusalem Welsh Church, Tynewydd Road, Barry Dock, and his wedding with Miss M. J. Thomas was the first to be solemnised in that Church.

He had been secretary of the Loyal Glamorgan Garden of Wales Lodge of the Manchester Unity Independent Order of Oddfellows since 1911.

A keen Rugby and cricket enthusiast, Mr. James played for many seasons with the Dinas Powis C.C.

The funeral took place at Barry Cemetery on Wednesday, Sqd. Ldr. the Rev. T. Madoc Jones, R.A.F., officiating at a service held at the house and the graveside. He was assisted by the Rev. J. Mydyr Evans.

The chief mourners were Mrs. M. J. James (widow), Mrs. D. M. Hill (daughter), Master Donald Hill (grandson), Mrs. M. Brown, Singapore, the Misses Lucy, Rosalie and Betty James (daughters), Mrs. Thomas (mother-in-law), Mrs. Andrews (sister-in-law), Mrs. M. INQUEST ON BARRY PRINTER

Driver Exonerated

The terrible injuries received by Mr. David James, age 67, of Court Road, Barry Dock, late works manager of the "Barry and District News," when he was involved in an accident with a 52-seater double-decker bus on Friday of last week, were mentioned by Dr. E. J. Herrington Budge, of Cadoxton, at the inquest conducted at Barry on Tuesday by the Deputy Divisional Coroner, Mr. Harold Rees, when the driver of the bus, Leslie Ronald Twigg, Jenner Road, Barry, was exonerated from blame.

Dr. Budge said death was due to multiple injuries consisting of a large scalp wound at the back of the head, a fracture of the shaft of the right humerus, at least four ribs broken on the right side, a compound fracture of the right leg and a fracture of the spinal column.

Mrs. James, wife of deceased, said her husband was in perfect health and spirits and his hearing and sight were not defective, although her husband wore spectacles at his work.

P.C. J. J. Owen said the driver called at his house and said he had knocked a man down with his omnibus. He proceeded to the scene of the accident and found a man lying face downwards underneath the bonnet of the bus. The right boot was torn off the foot and an unopened umbrella was under the nearside front wheel.

The bus was reversed and the body removed when he recognised it as Mr. James.

He made enquiries from the driver who stated he was driving along Court Road at between 15-20 m.p.h. when near the scene of the accident he thought he saw a person on the road in front of the bus a few paces from the kerb. He swerved to the right, applied his footbrake and came to a standstill. During his swerve he felt an impact on some part of the vehicle.

P.C. Owen said that at that time it was semi-dark, with a misty rain and fog, and visibility was very bad. The driver had both sidelights and nearside masked headlight burning at the time.

In answer to a question from Mr. Morgan Rees (Messrs. Lewis, Morgan, Browne and Haslam, Cardiff) who appeared on behalf of the relatives, P.C. Owen agreed that in order to catch a bus travelling in the direction of Barry Dock, deceased would have to walk diagonally away from oncoming traffic to reach the bus stop.

The conductor of the bus, Miss Betty Storey, said the bus had stopped at Hannah Street to drop passengers and was travelling slowly when she was suddenly flung forward as the bus swerved and stopped.

The driver, Leslie Ronald Twigg, Jenner Road, Barry, stated that after stopping between Hannah Street and Commercial Road, he was driving in top gear at between 15-20 m.p.h. along Court Road when the accident occurred. He described it in the same way as he had done to the Police witness at the time of the accident.

In answer to a question by Mr. J. B. Price-Jughes (Barry), who appeared for the relatives, Twigg stated he had been driving for eight years and had a clean record.

The Coroner, returning a verdict of Accidental Death due to multiple injuries received in the accident, remarked that there was nothing in the evidence to show that any blame attached to the driver of the bus.

WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Tabernacle C.M. Chapel, Cardigan, on the 10th July, the contracting parties being Mr. T. J. Davies (Jack), the eldest son of Councillor T. Davies, Brynawel, Cardigan, and Mrs. Dilys Hill, eldest daughter of Mrs. James and the late Mr. David James, Court View, Barry (formerly of Tregibby Farm, Cardigan). The Rev. C. Currie Hughes, B.A., Tabernacle, Cardigan, officiated assisted by the Rev. J. Price, Verwig (pastor of the bridegroom). The bride was attired in a model powder blue two-piece with black accessories, and also wore a shoulder spray of pink carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Rosalie James, of Barry, who wore a model cyclamen two-piece with black accessories and shoulder spray of roses. The duties of best man were carried out by Councillor B. James, Cwrcoed, Newcastle-Emlyn (cousin of the bridegroom). Among the guests present were Councillor T. Davies (father of the bridegroom), Mrs. James (mother of the bride) and Master Donald Hill, Mr. Ivor Edgar Davies and Miss Mary Davies (brother and sister of the bridegroom), Mrs. James Cwrcoed, Councillor D. O. Davies, Dyffryn, Mr. Ben Davies Ffynnongrog, Miss Nan Thomas, Croft, Miss Morris, Llwynpiod, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Trewitwal, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Parke, Mrs. Davies, Llwynceilyn, Miss Thomas, Ffynnonwen, Mrs. James, Dinas Cross, Mr. C. Thomas, Pille, Mr. Davies and Eynon Davies, Hafod, Mr. Harry Davies, Penpark. Mrs. Davies and Misses Elena and Myfanwy Davies (mother and sisters of the bridegroom) were unavoidably absent. The reception was held at the Black Lion Hotel, Cardigan. Congratulatory speeches were given also numerous telegrams received. The honeymoon is being spent touring North Wales.

Wedding Bells

HILL-DAVIES—THOMAS

The marriage took place at Capel Mair Congregational Chapel of Flying Officer Donald Hill-Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davies, Penlan Farm, Cardigan, and Miss Marjorie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thomas, School House, St. Dogmaels. Officiating was the Rev. D. J. Roberts, Capel Mair, assisted by the Rev. C. Currie Hughes, Tabernacle. The organist was Mrs. May Jones (aunt of the bride).

Given away by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white pleated nylon tulle appliqued with guipure lace. Her headdress was of pearls and diamante with circular veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

She was attended by Misses Jean and Judith Davies (bridegroom's sisters) who wore ankle-length dresses of lemon nylon organza embossed with white flowers, with white fur capes and carried posies of mixed spring flowers.

The best man was Flying Officer Tony Prosser, London (bridegroom's friend), and the groomsmen were Messrs. Howard Thomas (brother-in-law of the bride) and D. O. Jones (uncle of the bride). A reception was held at the Webley Hotel, Poppit, where many congratulatory messages were read.

The bride and bridegroom later left for their honeymoon in London and Germany, the bride travelling in a kingfisher blue coach with accessories to tone. The bride is a member of the staff of Lloyds Bank, Cardigan.
